

WANT TO PUBLISH AN ARTICLE IN A PROJECT MUSE JOURNAL?

FIND JOURNALS IN YOUR AREA OF INTEREST AND PUBLISHER SUBMISSION GUIDELINES ON MUSE.

Project MUSE includes over 600 journals in the humanities and social sciences.

To find journals in your general subject area, click the “Browse MUSE Content” button on the homepage (muse.jhu.edu) and then click “Browse All MUSE.”

Click Journals under Content Type, and then scroll down to browse by “Research Area.”

You can then browse by different publishers using the Publisher facet.

OR SEARCH BY SUBJECT

You can also find journals that publish on specific topics: search by keywords, click to limit results to articles if needed, and then click on the journal name in the articles you’re interested in.

Once you’ve found a possible journal, click “Additional Information” on the journal’s home page on MUSE, and find the submission guidelines.
